WICHITA GETS NEXT DRY FARMING CONGRESS

Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 31.—Wichita, Kas. was selected as the 1914 meeting place of the International Dry Farming congress by the international board of governors at a special meeting this morning. Budapest, Hungary, Regina, Canada and Prescott, Ariz., were the other cities making active fight for the convention.

on the floor of the convention H. J. Walters head of the agricultural college of Kansas, was unanimously elected president of the congress, to succeed W. R. Motherwell of Canada, O. D. Hunt, chairman of the Tulsa board of control of the present exposition, was given a signal honor when he was made first vice-president of the international congress for the ensuing year. H. M. Bainer of Amarillo, Tex., was made second vice president, while Alfred M. Atkinson, of the Montana Agricultural college, was elected third vice president.

W. I. Drummond, of Enid, Okla., was made chairman of the executive committee which office carries with it the position of chairman of the international board of governors, one of the most important offices of the congress.

TRIBUTE TO ADOLPHUS BUSCH IN CONGRESSIONAL RECORD

Washington, October 31.—The house was in session for forty-five minutes yesterday and 101 members responded to their names on the roll call forced by Minority Leader Mann on motion to adjourn.

Representative Dyer of St. Louis secured unanimous consent to insert in the Congressional Record the eulogy delivered by Charles Nagel at the funeral of the late Adolphus Busch. Mr. Dyer told the house that Mr. Nagel's address, which he had secured in full, was a notable tribute to St. Louis' foremost citizen. No objection was offered.

Miss Mollie McMillan left this morning for Louisville, Ky., where she will take a course in the Baptist seminary and ladies training school.

HOW TO TAKE GOOD CARE OF YOUR HAIR

Nothing spoils your good looks so much as homely hair—straggly, dull-colored, harsh. Nothing adds to good looks so much as beautiful hair—soft, silky, wavy and glossy. No matter how beautiful your hair is now, you can improve its good looks by using Harmony Hair Beautifier. If your hair is homely and ugly now, Harmony Hair Beautifier will make it softer, silkier, glossier, more beautiful in every way. It also makes it easier to put up and helps it to "stay put." Its rich rose odor hides the unpleasant, oily smell of the hair. Harmony Hair Beautifier is rightly named: it beautifies the hair.

Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet-smelling cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony Laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Preparations are made. BRILLIANT VICTORY

ADA NORMAL OVERWHELMS EDMOND IN SPECTACULAR GAME.
SCORE 31 TO 14.

Again the eagle of victory perched upon the banner of East Central normal Thursday afternoon when the football team overwhelmed the mighty Edmond squad by the decisive score of 31 to 14.

The game was probably the best ever played on the local gridiron and the teams seemed evenly matched in most particulars, Edmond being perhaps some heavier, but the effective work of Coach Clark in bringing out the best there was in the good raw material of the East Central was apparent from the first. The Ada boys were superior to their opponents both of offensive and defensive tactics. They seldom failed to make a gain when bucking the line of the Edmond boys and usually held their opponents on downs when the ball was in their possession. A careful computation showed that exclusive of the gains made by punting, Ada gained 363 yards and the visitors 184 during the game. Although two touchdowns were scored by Ada on the forward pass occasionally the normal lost more in attempting its use than it gained, straight line bucking seeming to be the strong point with the home team. The visitors were no more successful on an average. Probably the best plays on the part of Edmond was a fake used by Byrd and Myers which netted them some fine gains on two occasions.

The game was a clean exhibition of the sport throughout and the Edmond boys, who have enjoyed a series of big victories over other strong teams proved themselves good losers and took their defeat with the good grace that characterizes true sportsmen.

Neither side scored during the first quarter. The ball was carried back and forth across the field without decided advantage on either side. The game opened with a kick-off by Edmond to Ada's 20 yard line. Ada returned the ball ten yards, gained thirty more in line bucking and a forward pass, and was then held for downs on Edmond's 15 yard line. Edmond kicked the ball out of the danger zone. Soon afterwards Ada attempted the forward pass but Edmond got the ball. The visitors made a 15-yard gain on a forward pass and a moment later lost on a fumble. Each side was held for downs once or twice more in this quarter and Ada was penalized 15 yards on one occasion. The ball was perilously near Ada's goal line when Stegall made a run that netted ten yards, Messenger about the same and Wallace made a clever dive through the line of the opposition for about 10 yards. Edmond got the ball again on a fumble and punted it out of danger. The quarter closed with the ball on Ada's 30-yard line.

In the second quarter things began to happen, and before it closed each side had made a touch down. The quarter opened with a 20-yard gain by Ada on a forward pass and after some busy playing the ball was carried to the 30-yard line of the visitors. Roddie made a successful forward pass to C. McMillan, who eluding the grasp of the opposing side, carried the ball over for the first touch down of the game. Messenger failed to kick goal. Ada then kicked off to Edmond's 15-yard line. After changing hands a time or two, the ball finally went to Edmond on a fumble and finally Perdue succeeded in carrying it across for a touch down for Edmond. He kicked goal. Features of the remaining part of the period were successful forward pass by Roddie to R. McMillan and a 20-yard run around the end by C. McMillan. Each side was penalized 15 yards during this period.

The third quarter was Ada's through out, Edmond failing to add anything to its score, while the home team made two touch downs. The period was hardly under way before Roddie went across the line. Messenger kicked goal. Score: 13 to 7.

Ada kicked off, Edmond returned 15 yards, Edmond fumbled Ada got the ball but soon left on downs, but Edmond was forced to punt. Ada made 15 yards on a forward pass, Donaghey receiving the ball. McCain bucked the line for a 20-yard gain. The ball was then then went over for the third touch down. Score: 19 to 7. During the remaining part of the quarter Ada tried the forward pass with some success, Roddie to Messenger, and Roddie to C. McMillan netting substantial gains.

The fourth quarter began with the ball close to Edmond's goal line, but Ada was held for downs. Edmond kicked 20 yards and in a few moments later a forward pass from Roddie to C. McMillan netted another touch down. Messenger failed on goal. Score: 25 to 7. Ada kicked to the 10-yard line, Edmond returned it 20 yards and being forced to punt sent the ball to the 30-yard line. Ada soon plowed its way down the field however, and from the 10-yard line McCain went over for the last touch down, Roddie giving splendid interference, knocking over three of the opposing side, Roddie failed on goal. Score: 31 to 7. After this Coach Clark seeing the game was won beyond all doubt put in some subs to give them a chance for real playing, and although they did good work Edmond made gains that in the last few minutes of the game resulted in a touchdown by B. Myers. Chambers kicked goal. Score: 31 to 14.

A feature of this part of the game was a sensational catch of a forward pass by R. McMillan, who although surrounded by several of the other side, succeeded in catching the ball and dodging them. McCain did some brilliant work on two occasions when Ada's goal was in danger. The remaining few minutes of the game was devoted principally to keeping the ball in the center of the field.

No story of the game would be complete without mentioning the superb work in the line of the two Rollows, Shelton, Riddle, Blanford and Cottingham. The regular ones in the above list standing like a stone wall when the opposing side bucked the line, and going straight through when it was Ada's turn to make a rush. The subs mentioned did excellent work and gave promise of a bright future as players.

Football Notes

Princeton and Rutgers began playing football back in 1869 and have met almost annually ever since.

The line of the University of Pennsylvania team averaged 184 pounds, the backs 166 pounds and the eleven 178 pounds.

McCa, the great Lafayette punter of a decade ago, is assisting "Doc" Newton coach his old college eleven at Easton, Pa.

Eddie Hart and Doc Hillebrand, both former Tiger captains, are expected to join the coaching staff at Princeton soon.

John Foster, secretary of the New York Giants, will handle the big football games on the Polo grounds, New York, this fall.

Brown and Ingram, who have reported to Coach Howard at Annapolis, complete the list of 1912 veterans on the "Middies" eleven.

A colored player on the Michigan Agricultural team cannot be induced to wear a headguard. He claims that his head is harder than any headguard made.

THE UNNAMED ONES

In any story of a deed done by an organized body, whether it be an army, political party, football or baseball squads, it is always a cause for regret that although all put forth their most strenuous efforts and contribute as much as the others towards the victory, only a few happen to be in positions where they attract attention. It is the general who is referred to as the winner of the battle; the candidate elected to office by his admirer followers; and the ball player who happens to be in a favorable position who is read about when the game is over. Sergeant Jasper will be remembered as long as American history is read because of his intrepid bravery in leaping over the parapet amid a shower of musket and cannon balls and replacing the flag that had

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 60 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair.
You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

REMOVAL OF THE CHEROKEES

(By E. A. McMillan)

Longfellow has immortalized, in his Evangeline, the exile of the Acadians—a poem full of pathos and grief—a blot upon the fair history of the settlement of America, but no Longfellow has ever painted in words the heartrending scenes, the great grief and pathos that marked the summary removal of the Cherokee people from their mountain homes in Georgia in 1838-39 to Oklahoma.

The intrigue which marked the signing of the so called treaty at New Echota whereby less than 10 per cent of the Cherokee tribe, need not be recounted. Major Davis, who was sent by the government to enroll the Cherokees, wrote the Secretary of War in part as follows, "Sir that paper, called a treaty, is no treaty at all, because not sanctioned by the great body of the Cherokee and made without their consent or participation."

It was early in the spring of 1838 that General Winfield Scott was sent into the Cherokee country with nearly 7,000 soldiers to force the Indians from their homes in accordance with the so called treaty. Upon his arrival he found a people that were pastorial. Churches had been erected and called together people each Sunday to worship the true God. Cemeteries dotted the valleys where reposed the remains of their ancestors and loved ones. Their advancement along civilized ways had kept pace with the white settlers that were their neighbors.

Troops were distributed over the Nation, and stockaded forts erected.
Squads of troops were sent out, all heavily armed, into every nook and corner—into the fastnesses of their forests, along their mountain streams —to seize and bring in every man, woman and child of the tribe. None were excepted in the order issued.

The aged, infirm and sick were alike the victims of the order of the government. It is said that "families at dinner were startled by the sudden gleam of bayonets in the doorway and rose up to be driven with blows and oaths along the weary miles of trail that led to the stockade. Men were seized in their fields or going along the road, women were taken from their wheels and children from their play.
In many cases, on turning for one last look as they crossed the ridge, they saw their homes in flames, fired by the lawless rabble that followed on the heels of the soldiers to loot and pillage. So keen were these outrages on the scent that in some instances they were driving off the cattle and other stock of the Indians almost before the soldiers had fairly started their owners in the other direction.
Systematic hunts were made by the same men for Indian graves, to rob them of the silver pendants and other valuables deposited with the dead.
A Georgia Confederate soldier, after having gone through the Civil war said: "I fought through the civil war and have seen men shot to pieces and slaughtered by thousands, but the removal of the Cherokee was the cruel-lest piece of work I ever knew."

To prevent escape the soldiers had been ordered to approach and surround each house, so far as possible, so as to come upon the occupants without warning. One old patriarch, when thus surprised calmly called his children and grandchildren around him, and kneeling down, bid them pray with him in their own language, while the soldiers looked on in silence. Then rising he led them away into exile. A woman, on finding the house surrounded, went to the door and called the chickens to be fed for the last time, after which, taking her infant on her back and her two children by the hand, she followed her husband to the soldiers."

In this manner nearly 17,000 Cherokees were gathered together into the stockades when the real work of removal began.

The first party numbering nearly 5,000 souls started westward in June.
The extreme heat of the summer brought death to over 1,000 of those who started. The trail from Georgia and Tennessee to Oklahoma has often been referred to as "the trail of tears." Each day marked the celebration of the funeral rites of the tribe. Hardly a mile of the long trek but a Cherokee grave marked the awful avarice that forced those unhappy people from their homes to an unknown country, amid conditions never before exacted and never since re-enacted. So great was the disaster and so astounding the mortality that when Principal Chief John Ross pleaded with General Scott for permission for the Cherokees to remove themselves unobstructed by soldiers aid, the hardened heart of the great General was softened and permission granted. Accordingly the following fall—October 1838—from Rattlesnake Springs, where the last Council in the east was held and where they solemn-verdict of the jury rendered this morning after the jury had deliberated for nearly twelve hours.

Mrs. Eaton, who had waited up heard the verdict. She wept as she thanked each juror individually. Of the 200 persons who sat in the court room all night a few were women.

Mrs. Eaton issued the following statement:

"I am glad most of all because of my aged mother and my lame child, both of whom need me. I shall go

As Simple as A. B. C.

THE reason so many people buy Pianos from Jenkins and this store's great growth is as simple as A. B. C.

In the first place we must have done business right and with fairness to have grown at all in the face of the competition we have had. We must have done business fairer and have sold better Pianos and given better values than all competitors, to have grown as no other Piano business has grown—continually—largely—solidly.

The basis of it all is FAIR DEALING,
which means much when you come to think it over.

An investigation and comparison will prove that we save you $50 to $150 on a Piano.

Why take chances elsewhere when you are sure to be satisfied here.

Men Welcome Mother's Friend

A Duty that Every Man Ows to Those who Perpetrate the Race.

It is just as important that men should know of progressive methods in advance of motherhood. The suffering, pain and distress incident to child-bearing can be easily avoided by having at hand a bottle of Mother's Friend.

This is a wonderful, penetrating, external application that relieves all tension upon the muscles and enables them to expand without the painful strain upon the ligaments. Thus there is avoided all those terrible spells; the tendency to nausea or morning sickness is counteracted, and a bright, sunny, happy disposition is preserved that reflects wonderfully upon the character and temperament of the little one soon to open its eyes in bewilderment at the joy of his arrival. You can obtain a bottle of "Mother's Friend" at any drug store at $1.00, and it will be the best dollar's worth you ever obtained. It preserves the mother's health, enables her to make a quick and complete recovery, and thus with renewed strength she will eagerly devote herself to the care and attention which mean so much to the welfare of the child.
Write to the Bradford Regulator Co., 129 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their valuable and instructive book of guidance for expectant mothers. Get a bottle of Moth-

This "lawyer" story is told by the Oakley, Kas., Graphic: "An old man, now dead, never seemed to be satisfied unless he had several cases pending in court. He had just won a case in the justice court when the loser, in a combative frame of mind exclaimed, 'I'll law you in the circuit court!'"

Old Man—I'll be thar.
Loser—And I'll law you to the supreme court.
Old Man—I'll be thar.
Loser—I'll law you to hell!
Old Man—My lawyer'll be thar.

NEW YORK CITY AWAITS ELECTION

New York, Oct. 31.—Amid a blaze of oratorical pyrotechnics and political rallies, one of the bitterest and at the same time one of the most important municipal campaigns in the history of New York City tonight reaches its climax. The candidates and other speakers will continue on the stump almost until the opening of the polls next Tuesday, but for all practical purposes the campaign may be said to close with the big rallies to be held tonight in every section of the city.

What will be the story told by the ballots next Tuesday? The usual expressions of confidence, of course, are emanating from the headquarters of the various candidates and parties, but as a matter of fact the situation today is such as to render all guessing on the results absolutely futile and worthless.

There never has been a campaign like it; there never has been a situation that could approach it for complexity and uncertainty. And there never has been a campaign that could exceed it in genuine bitterness and vituperation.

In its broader aspects the contest does not differ from other mayoralty fights that have taken place in New York City in late years. It is a straightout fight for and against Tammany Hall—a fight by Tammany to regain control of the city government and millions in annual patronage and a battle by the opposition, carrying the Fusion banner, to overthrow the strongest political organization dominating any American city.

But unlooked for developments since the campaign began have served to complicate the situation. The first event to upset the calculations of the political leaders was the sudden death of Mayor Gaynor, who, had he lived, would undoubtedly have made a hard fight for re-election as an independent candidate.

The removal of Mayor Gaynor from the contest simplified the situation in a measure and unquestionably relieved the mind of Tammany Hall in no small degree. Tammany never relished the idea of Gaynor heading an independent movement. With but two tickets in the field, the Tammanyites have declared right along that they felt certain of victory.

But no sooner was the Gaynor bug-a-boo out of the way than the Sulzer issue bobbed up to disturb the rosy dreams of Leader Murphy and his Tammany cohorts. There are many astute politicians who do not think it is putting it too strongly to say that Sulzer is now the real pivot of the campaign. The pro-Sulzer sentiment mostly is confined to the East Side, where Sulzer is well known and liked by the large foreign element. Tammany realizes this and during the last week of the campaign has bent every effort to save its East Side districts. The Tammany speakers have done their utmost safely in the mayor's chair.

Opinion differs as to the strength of John Purroy Mitchel, the Fusionist candidate for mayor. Mr. Mitchel has a clean record and his capability for the office he seeks is unquestioned. He has been endorsed by every element of the Tammany opposition, even Mr. Hearst's Independence League, which in previous campaigns has been a thorn in the side of the anti-Tammany forces.

Disquieting to the Fusion leaders, however, is the attitude of some Republicans. They make no bones of saying that they would have preferred District Attorney Whitman as the anti-Tammany candidate for mayor. Should the present city ticket be victorious the Republicans would have only one of three officials, Controller Prendergast, Mr. Mitchel is, of course, a Democrat, and Mr. McAneny, candidate for president of the board of aldermen, like wise.

Herman A. Metz for controller and Joseph A. Goulden for president of the board of aldermen are regarded as strengthening factors on the Democratic or Tammany ticket. On the other hand, the Fusionist ticket, excepting its head, is weakened by the fact that the Independence League has named its own candidates for the two minor offices.

The results of the struggle, it is needless to add, are far more important to New York City and State than the mere election of Mitchel or McCall. If Tammany is defeated it will mean that its methods have been overwhelmed, and with the tumble may fairly be expected to come the downfall of its leaders, Murphy. This is a consummation admittedly sought by citizens represented in the Fusion movement.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your Kidneys Occasionally if you eat meat regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

CONSUMER MUST

PAY TAPPING FEE

In the county court, Thursday afternoon Judge King reversed the justice court decision in the case of J. Q. Adams vs. the city of Ada, in which Adams claimed that under the law the city must make taps to the water mains free of cost to the consumer, holding that the city ordinance fixing the tapping fee at $8.50 was contrary to the law. Judge King upheld the ordinance.

City Attorney Webb states that a number of citizens have held up on paying the tapping fee pending the decision in this case, but that they will now have to come across.

A GORGEOUS SPECTACLE

RINGLING SHOW ARRIVES—PA-RADE AT 10:30—THE CITY
CROWDED.

The great big holiday is here! When the sun arose this morning it found plenty of opposition in the Frisco yards where Ringling Brothers' trains were unloading all of their red and golden circus. Four trains brought the big show into the city with 86 cars bringing 1,300 people, more than 600 horses, herds of elephants and the famous harness teams of camels and zebras. No alarm clocks were needed to get the small boy out of bed this morning for he was down at the tracks before dawn waiting for the first glimpse of the circus, and there was with this youthful throng a large majority of those real, red-blooded boys who never grow up, and are always Peter Pans when the circus comes to town and just as eager to lead the spotted ponies to water.

The first section brought the commissary department and long before the stove had been lighted in the home kitchen there was a pleasant aroma of coffee and ham and eggs coming across the meadows from the cook-house. With wonderful rapidity, Steward Webb had this department in full blast and as fast as the working men arrived they were served a hot breakfast. And if anybody thinks it is an easy task to feed 1,300 people think of having to do this three times a day and each day in a different town. The second and third sections brought the equipment and parade wagons, while on the last were all of the performers and the long string of sleeping cars with the dancing girls of the

Joan of Arc ballet which this season is an added feature of the show.

Circus day had hardly dawned when people began coming into the city, and many came Thursday night. All railways and country roads led to the blue pennanted canvas city. All trains coming in were crowded to the limit and long before the parade reached down town, the streets were thronged with people. The Ringling Brothers have always kept their promises and their loudly heralded street pageant was another proof that their word is good. No more glittering and brilliant display has ever been made in this city. The parade nearly three miles in length was one unending array of novelties, light and color. The famous Ringling horses, both in the teams and the cavalcades, mounted by men and women in the gorgeous costumes of the time of Charles the Seventh made a splendid showing. Pretty and effective pictures were made by the tableau cars which were filled with girls in gay garb. There was plenty of music and our old friends, the clowns, received a welcome equal to a congressman coming home with a job for every officer hunter.

The afternoon performance began at 2 o'clock and the big tent was crowded. Opening the bill came the spectacle of Joan of Arc in which more than 1,000 characters appear telling in pantomime the dramatic story of the Maid of Orleans who went forth to battle for country and her king. Nothing so richly costumed or so effectively presented has ever been given here before. The opening pageant, the ballet of dancing girls and the tournament were veritable surprises. The spectacle was followed by the circus performance in which 375 men and women appeared. More novelties than ever before are presented the Ringlings having brought from Europe the majority of their people.

The final performance will take place tonight at 8 o'clock, the doors open an hour earlier allowing time to visit the extensive menagerie and also to enjoy the operatic concert rendered by the military band of eight pieces.

The show goes from here to Okmulgee where the closing performance of the season will be given.

FROM THE OLD HOME

By L. O. MUMF.

There is no more lonely experience than being among strangers in a large city, upon a holiday; so thought Lydia Hargrave, as she started out for the matinee one Thanksgiving afternoon, in a brave effort to enjoy the day, in spite of her lonely condition. Lydia belonged to an old cultivated family of Hartford, but, like so many of our old eastern families, the strength of the Hargraves had been given to the accumulation of culture rather than the accumulation of dollars, and Lydia had accepted a position in a young ladies' boarding school in Buffalo.

Mr. Joshua Wheeler, middle-aged, well-to-do and a merchant of Hartford, found himself held in Buffalo over this same Thanksgiving day. He did not know that Lydia was in Buffalo—indeed, he had not seen nor thought of her since she was a child.

Lydia, as she turned down Genesee street, headed for the Star theater, was delighted to see some one from her old home, and approached Mr. Wheeler with happy confidence. As she came near enough to speak to him, she saw plainly that he did not recognize her. She hesitated, and filled with embarrassment and indignation, hurried on. She had not gone far, when she heard rapid footsteps behind her, and turning immediately, discovered Mr. Wheeler. In his most suave manner Mr. Wheeler raised his hat and inquired if she was going to the matinee.

"Yes," said Lydia, tentatively.
"May I join you?" murmured Mr. Wheeler.

"I should be most pleased to have you," she replied.

Lydia had been rowing her own boat for over six years and had learned to steer.

Mr. Wheeler secured their seats and they were comfortably settled with some minutes to chat before the curtain went up. Lydia could not feel certain that Mr. Wheeler did not know her, and in order to test the point, said:

"Now you must tell me who you are."

Mr. Wheeler hesitated, then with emphasis that was slightly overdone, said:

"Calhoun—Calhoun; I haven't a card with me, but I'm Calhoun—William Calhoun."

Then she knew.
"And where are you from, Mr. Calhoun?" sweetly murmured Lydia.

"I'm from New York."
"New York city?"

"Yes, from the metropolis. And now you must tell me your name."

Lydia could not think of any high-sounding, romantic name, so she chokingly murmured: "Jones, Mary Jones."

"O, come now, your name isn't Jones; tell me what it really is."

"But it is Jones, and it is unkind of you to doubt it. It is bad enough to have to go through life with such a plebeian name without having people make personal remarks about it."

Here the curtain went up and their conversation was interrupted. Just before the last act her escort said:

"I'm going to take you home."

"No," said Lydia, trying to fence, "it is so far out to my house that you would get lost, and perhaps never get back."

"I'm going to take you home. You have led me to believe that I might, and I don't intend to let you go alone."

"But your interpretation is wrong."

"What other interpretation is there?"

"This. I had every right to speak to you—every right to let you go to the matinee with me, for I have enjoyed your acquaintance, and the acquaintance of your wife and daughters, for many years. Mr. Joshua Wheeler, of Hartford."

Lydia donned her wraps, and still smiling broadly, extended her hand.

"I thank you for the jolliest afternoon of my life. Now will you take me to my car?"

"In heaven's name, who are you?" ejaculated Joshua.

"Mary Jones, of Buffalo," smiled Lydia. "Will you take me to my car?"

"I will."

And he did.

To Honor Schiaparelli.
A committee comprising the heads of leading Italian scientific institutions and presided over by the king of Italy has been formed to obtain money by public subscription for paying suitable honor to the memory of Prof. Giovanni Schiaparelli, the distinguished astronomer. It is proposed to erect a monument to him at his birthplace, Savignano, in Piedmont, and to place a memorial tablet in the Brera palace at Milan. He was connected with the observatory of Brera for 40 years, most of the time as director. To the world at large Schiaparelli was chiefly famous for his discovery of the so-called canals of Mars in 1877.

Game Did Not Appeal to Them.
Four Armenians sat in a Manchester park the other day watching the bowling-green, says the Manchester Guardian. Their calm faces betrayed no curiosity. But then some one passed by them to watch the game, the oldest Armenian rose and put a polite question: "Sir, please do they pay money to do that?" "Yes, they pay money." A flash of amusement passed over the Armenian face. One could see that, for the first time, they realized the folly of the Anglo-Saxons.

MRS. W. W. LAKE

Tells Others How to Get Strong and Well.

Mrs. W. W. Lake of Aberdeen, Miss., says: "The grippe had left me in a weak, run-down condition from which I suffered for some time. I tried different remedies but nothing seemed to do me any good until I took Vinol, from which I received great benefit. My cough is almost entirely gone and I am strong and well again and I am glad to recommend Vinol to others who suffer as I did."

Mrs. Lake's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements extracted from cods' livers—combined with the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol, and her cough disappeared as a natural result.

We guarantee that Vinol will do all we claim and will pay back your money if Vinol does not satisfy you.—Gwin & Mays Drug Co., Ada, Okla.
